Thick data offers a new kind of intel:

Finds people left out of traditional research

Gets underneath disconnects

Segmentation to show what works, for whom

Explores features of problem AND solutions

Meet Ko

Albert walks and walks, and walks some more. Every day, after a no-frills black coffee, he pulls out a map, and goes somewhere. Parks and libraries are preferred destinations - but any where will do. He's got no where to be and no one to return home to. The one-story brown house where he lived his whole life has been sold. His sister won't talk to him. His parents are dead.
